Conversation Starters (questions you can ask to start a conversation about relationships and services):
Given my financial situation, should I choose a brokerage service? Why or why not?
How will you choose investments to recommend to me?
What is your relevant experience, including your licenses, education, and other qualifications? What do these qualifications mean?

What fees will I pay?
The principal fees and costs that you will incur for brokerage services are transaction-based fees, often called commissions. Commissions vary based on factors such as transaction size, number of shares traded, clearing firm, and route selected. Since you will be charged more when there are more trades in your account, the firm may therefore have an incentive to encourage you to trade often.

There are other fees and costs relating to the firm’s brokerage services that you will pay directly or indirectly. You will be charged directly for fees such as routing or ECN fees, service fees (e.g., wires, paper statements, stock reorgs, etc.), software fees, margin interest, inactivity fees, stock locate fees, short borrow fees, and fail to deliver fees.

SpeedTrader earns revenue from third-party market centers to which customer orders are routed. Some market centers pay or rebate for these orders. For additional information, please visit our website, at www.SpeedTrader.com/routing-report.

You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. Fees and costs will reduce any amount of money you make on your investments over time. Please make sure you understand what fees and costs you are paying. For additional information on fees and costs, please visit www.SpeedTrader.com and review the information under the Pricing tab.

Conversation Starter: Help me understand how these fees and costs might affect my investments. If I give you $10,000 to invest, how much will go to fees and costs, and how much will be invested for me?

What are your legal obligations to me when providing recommendations? How else does your firm make money and what conflicts of interest do you have?

We do not provide recommendations. The way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts because they can affect the services, we provide you.

Here are some examples to help you understand what this means:

- SpeedTrader receives compensation on for directing order flow to selected exchanges or broker-dealers. SpeedTrader allows customers to direct their orders to the market maker of their choosing. If the customer decides to use the firm’s SmartRoute option, the firm will direct the order. The firm has a financial incentive to include venues that pay for order flow in its SmartRoute system.
- SpeedTrader receives transaction-based compensation, which means you will be charged more when there are more trades in your account. The firm may therefore have an incentive to encourage you to trade often.

For further information about conflicts of interest, please visit www.SpeedTrader.com and review the disclosures on the home page and in the Disclosures tab.

Conversation Starter: How might your conflicts of interest affect me, and how will you address them?
