It is always the client's responsibility to review their account daily, through COR Clearing, LLC (The clearing firm) at their website https://stockusa.automatedfinancial.com/secure_login.html and compare the information shown there versus the information displayed on the trading software. If there is any discrepancy of any kind including but not limited to; current equity, buying power, or positions; you must contact Mint Global Markets, Inc. PRIOR TO ACTING ON ANY INFORMATION THAT DOES NOT MATCH. Also if you ever believe for any reason that anything is incorrect in your account, please make sure you always contact Mint Global Markets, Inc. before acting. If you act before contacting Mint Global Markets, Inc. to verify the validity of your account information or fail to review the account on a daily basis, any issues that arise as a result of not reviewing the information or contacting Mint Global Markets, Inc. in a timely manner (within 10 calendar days) after discovery will be solely the client's responsibility.

It is the client's responsibility to notify Mint Global Markets, Inc., immediately to: cancel contracted services or close the account, any inaccuracies, discrepancies or complaints; in writing, within 10 calendar days of discovery to: info@speedtrader.com or in writing to: SMint Global Markets, Inc., Attn: Compliance, 1717 Route 6, Suite 102 Carmel, New York 10512

Absent receipt of written notification, Mint Global Markets, Inc. will consider the account to be active and in good order. Applicable account fees, including but not limited to inactivity fee, paper statement and confirmation fees. Any trading platform software fees will continue, without interruption. In the even you become indebted to Mint Global Markets, Inc. in the course of operation of this account, and such indebtedness, upon demand is not paid by you, Mint Global Markets, Inc. may close the account and liquidate the assets in the account in the amount sufficient to pay the indebtedness.

TRADING: Clients are solely responsible for any order(s) placed in the account or by your user. Clients must be sure to keep user names and passwords secure and NOT allow any other party to have access to that information. Any orders placed in the client's account through your user or user IDs are considered valid. The client will be responsible for any execution or cancellation of those orders regardless of the timing of the order(s). Limit orders placed and left outstanding in the client's account may be executed at any time, including in pre-market or after-hours trading. Clients are responsible for cancelling any order(s) they do not want executed.

STOCK SPLITS, SYMBOL CHANGES & OPTIONS: It is the client's responsibility to notify Mint Global Markets, Inc. if they hold any security that has either a forward or reverse stock split and/or if any security owned has a symbol change of any kind. The client will also need to contact Mint Global Markets, Inc. if they are holding an option that has expired, been exercised, want to exercise, been assigned, had a dividend and/or stock split adjustment, or a symbol change. The trading software will NOT automatically adjust for these changes. The client will need to contact Mint Global Markets, Inc. to manually adjust the trading software to reflect these changes.

MARGIN: The client is responsible for all losses in the margin account, including but not limited to trading losses. There are 2 types of margin buying power available – Overnight (2:1) and Day Trading (4:1). Overnight buying power is limited to two times the available equity at the end of the preceding day. Overnight positions held above two times equity will result in a federal margin call. You may have up to 5 business days to cover an overnight call by either sending in new funds for the amount of the call or liquidating positions (2X the amount) to meet the call. If positions are liquidated to meet this call, the account may be restricted or closed. If new funds are not deposited or positions are not sold to cover the amount of the call when due Mint Global Markets, Inc. will be forced liquidate the position.

Day Trading buying power is applied to securities that are day traded (buys and sells in the same day). For margin accounts with equity above $25,000, the margin is set at 4:1 and there is no limit to the number of day trades that can be transacted. Note that overnight positions must not exceed 2:1 margin. For accounts under $25,000 there is a limit of 3 day trades per day in any 5 consecutive business day period. Overnight positions are not affected by this limitation. If you violate this rule your account may be restricted or closed. It is the client's responsibility to abide by these rules. The electronic order entry software systems provided to you by the firm cannot do this on your behalf.

Buying power is set at the beginning of the day and generally will not be increased for the remainder of the day (covering overnight positions will not increase buying power). When you have overnight positions your available buying power will generally be computed as follows: 30% (minimum maintenance) for short positions and 25% (minimum maintenance) for long positions subtract both figures from the equity and double what is left over. These percentages may be subject to change or differ by the security's margin requirements. http://speedtrader.com/Margin_Requirements.aspx

There are also increased margin requirements when shorting low priced securities. The minimum margin requirement is $2.50 per share. Therefore securities trading under $2.50 per share will be held at $2.50 the minimum requirement. Securities trading between $2.50 and $5 will be held to 100% requirement. Securities above $5 per share will be held to a minimum requirement of $5 per share and then the regular short requirements thereafter.

A margin call will be issued if transactions in the account exceed the day trading buying power at any point during the day. This day trading (DT) call must be met with cash only within 7 business days. The cash deposited to meet the day trading call can be withdrawn after 3 business days, as long as the funds are not used for trading and there is enough excess cash in the account to withdraw the deposited funds. If the DT call is not met when due the account will be restricted from trading for 90 days. Repeated restrictions could result in the account being closed.

Mint Global Markets, Inc. will generally attempt to contact you about any margin calls due. Notice may be sent by e-mail, phone or by other means available. Clients must strictly adhere to all margin rules. Please be aware that Mint Global Markets, Inc. is in no way obligated to inform clients' of margin calls due. It is the client's responsibility to monitor the account at all times. Mint Global Markets, Inc. may be forced to liquidate positions to meet the margin call at any time with or without notice. The clearing firm may choose to stop extending any credit or close the account for repeated violations. Also instructions received requesting a check or wire transfer will not be honored unless there is at least enough cash available to pay the amount requested.

If a client places trades prior to the current day's buying power loading at approximately 7:30 a.m., the client will still see the previous day's buying power figures. It is the client's responsibility to calculate buying power when trading pre-market. Any margin calls resulting from using the previous day's buy power will be valid calls and can only be met by depositing funds.

SHORT SALES: The term 'Short Sale' means any sale of a security, that the seller does not own, or any sale which is consummated by the delivery of a security, borrowed by, or for the account of the seller. For securities that are hard to borrow, short sales must be preceded by a request to Mint Global Markets, Inc. to make sure the security can be borrowed. Mint Global Markets, Inc. will contact our clearing firm's Stock Loan Department to ensure the availability of the security in question. If approval is granted by the clearing firm Stock Loan Department, Mint Global Markets, Inc. will inform you that the security can be sold short. If approval is not received the security in question cannot be shorted. If a client shorts a security that has not been located, the transaction may be cancelled or result in a buy-in, and the client will be responsible for any losses incurred. All trades that violate the rule will be removed from the account and all losses will be charged back to the account. The rules do not allow for a client to profit from such trades. Repeated violations of the rules may result in the account being closed. If approval is received and the security in question can be "shorted", the short sale must take place as "sell short". If a sell is used to place a short sale or over-sell a position; if the order is executed this would be a violation of the rules. It is the client's sole responsibility to cover any such position immediately with a corresponding buy. The trade(s) will be removed from the account. The client is sole responsible for any losses and the rules do not allow for a client to profit from such trades. Any such trades must be reported to Mint Global Markets, Inc. via email: info@speedtrader.com by the end of the trading day. http://speedtrader.com/Margin_Requirements.aspx

SHORT SALE HOLDING FEES: Please be aware that if you decide to hold a security overnight, the clearing firm may charge a Stock Borrow Fee, which is separate from a stock locate fee. That fee is not known till after trade settlement and will be charged by the clearing firm directly.

EQUITY REQUIREMENT: The amount of equity required to open and maintain a pattern day-trading account is $25,000. If the equity falls below this amount additional funds must be deposited to bring the equity back up to $25,000. If the minimum equity is not maintained, the account may become a regular margin account with buying power determined by the clearing firm and limited to 3 day-trades in a five day period. Positions held overnight do not count as day-trades.

CASH ACCOUNTS: Effective July 1, 2014 Mint Global Markets, Inc. does not accept Cash accounts, however if an account is still maintained as a cash account with Mint Global Markets, Inc., please be sure to read the following:

The minimum funding requirement for cash accounts is $2,500. It takes 3 business days for traded funds to settle in cash accounts. When a security is sold, the proceeds cannot be settled for at least 3 business days. If unsettled funds are used to buy a new position and the new position is sold before settlement of the original sale the transaction has violated the free riding and withholding rule, unless you deposit funds to pay for the new buy position prior to settlement. The account will be restricted for 90 days to cash in the account enough to pay for any purchases and closed for repeated violations. New positions must be held past settlement of the original sell trade to avoid this violation. This violation can also be avoided by opening a margin account, ($30,000 minimum funding required) as margin account funds can be reused before settlement without the 3-day restriction.

ILLIQUID STOCKS: All clients of Mint Global Markets, Inc. in aggregate cannot trade in excess of 10% of the previous 20 business day average trading volume of any stock on any day regardless of the stock's price. In addition, for stocks trading below $1 per share, clients cannot ever trade more than 25% of the current day's trading volume. There also cannot at any time ever be more than 5,000,000 shares of any one stock settling during any 3 business day settlement period for our entire firm. If a client trades in excess of these restrictions, then their accounts will be subject to fees and interest charges and possible buy in or sell out of the violating position during the 3-day settlement period of those trades. There will be a $300 fee for any trade that is in violation of this policy. The interest charges will then be assessed on an illiquidity requirement imposed on the clearing firm, which could be many times the value of the trade. The interest rates charged to clients who violate these restrictions will be a minimum overnight rate of 15% of the illiquidity requirement. These are only guideline amounts and lower trading volumes can also trigger illiquid charges, which will be passed through as well. Repeated violations of this policy will result in the account being closed.

ROUTING AND OTHER FEES: The routing fees on the website and as set in the software are subject to change at any time, without notice. The client solely responsible to know and verify the correct fee for any route prior to placing a trade. If necessary, Mint Global Markets, Inc. reserves the right to charge or adjust for venue, routing, or exchange fees, to mark up or adjust any routing fees at our sole discretion. Clients are responsible to know all the account and other fees listed on our site and must understand that there may be other additional fees for services that are not listed. Mint Global Markets, Inc. does receive payment for order flow when routing certain equity and options orders with specific routes or market centers, more information and a hard printed copy of the 606 (Order Flow) report is available upon request.

DISCLAIMER: System response, trade executions and account access may be affected by market conditions, system performance, quote delays and other factors. The risk of loss in electronic trading can be substantial. Therefore consider whether such trading is suitable for you in light of your financial resources and circumstances. Mint Global Markets, Inc. cannot and will not be held responsible for losses resulting from issues with the use of third party software quoting systems or third party order execution routing issues. Mint Global Markets, Inc. only provides clients with the ability to connect to quoting software and order execution routes, Mint Global Markets, Inc. does not own or control such services.
